

Business & Industry Program: Room Refresh Portfolio

Consumers are more empowered than ever, have more choices available to them, and have greater expectations from the brands they purchase from and engage with.

To encourage preference and inspire loyalty, businesses must consistently deliver a positive customer experience. While there is no silver-bullet solution to improve the customer experience, room refresh projects are a great starting place.

Room refresh projects can include making minor repairs, installing new fixtures, or even reworking an entire space. In the past, these initiatives may have seemed like a drain on resources, but it's time to rethink that notion. The benefits associated with investing in small-scale room upgrades directly impacts the customer experience by:

enhancing operations

driving efficiencies

cutting costs

Green upgrades provide a great example. A simple refresh project like replacing lights in rooms with new energy efficient LED bulbs can improve customer comfort, enhance the perception of your business among green conscious consumers, and lower energy costs (the savings generated can then be used to reinvest in other customer experience improvement projects). This type of refresh project also allows existing business services to continue while rooms are upgraded.
